Hey Josh, we all hope you are doing fine and keeping warm. Are they working you hard or do you have lots of free time?

are you sick of the ocean yet? Maybe you'll feel better once you get to see some land. I would hate to be out in the ocean for a long period of time like you are. I like the ocean at the beach because I can get in and out when I want to. Ha Ha - Sorry about the handwriting but it's early in the morning.

I guess you heard about the shuttle crash. That was a terrible thing.

If you want me to send you any newspaper articles or magazines just let us know.

PAPA is on the way up here this morning to help me wire our new building for electricity. It'll be a workshop + pool house, storage, etc.

12' X 20' is the size. I still have to paint it.

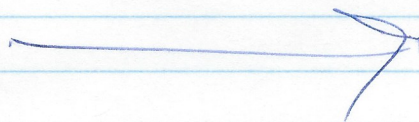

We sure hope you will be around sometime this summer so you can enjoy our pool. Then again you'll probably be sick of water. HaHa

Tell us what you are having to do on the boat. You're probably doing your regular job, aren't you?

We saw on CNN a day or so after you left some film of cargo ships leaving NC.

They had trailers like yours stacked 3 high. It could have been your boat.

Do you see a lot of seafife out there? Whales, sharks, flying fish?

Danny is in school and still loves the computer. It is getting close to baseball season and we are looking forward to that. Baseball will occupy a lot of Danny's computer time. Thank goodness!

We have give your address to people so maybe you'll start getting some mail.

Nascar is getting close and I hope you'll be able to see the races on TV. That will give you something to look forward to. If you don't get newspapers on the boat, I can send you the race articles if you want. let me know.

Are you getting sea sick or home sick?

We haven't talked to Marcia yet but we will call and check on her. She'll be fine, I'm sure.

We all miss you and look forward to you coming home. Very Proud of you!

We'll write later and if you have any buddies that don't have family or friends to write then give me their names and we might could get some school kids to write them.

Take care - we All love you

Danny, Sandra, Dad, Pudge, Kitty
